SUMMARY

Data Science student and Software Engineer with hands-on experience building full-stack applications and integrating machine learning models into user-facing products. Experienced with Python, FastAPI, scikit-learn, and data processing with Pandas, alongside Next.js, React, and database technologies. Interested in developing practical, data-driven solutions that connect ML capabilities with reliable software.

EXPERIENCE

EdTech Development (ML/WEB)

Alexandria, Egypt
04/2024 – Present

Educational Freelancing Services — Technology-focused educational services

- Founded Chameleon in 2024, an educational platform designed to improve faculty learning experiences.
- Worked on integrating language-model APIs into an existing web product and connecting AI responses to application features
- Worked with streaming responses and fallback model providers to support a more resilient conversational experience.
- Led product decisions and coordinated technical development based on student feedback and evolving requirements.
- Coordinate product improvements and feature delivery, balancing student needs, technical feasibility, and platform reliability.
